Things you can do with your camera -

- Adjust the focal point by tapping on the portion of the screen where you want the focal point to be.
- Zoom in and out by using two fingers to pinch in or out.
- Set grid lines by going to Settings ->Photos and Camera-> tap Grid switch to turn it on. This helps you to frame a shot.
- Toggle between front and rear cameras.
- Shoot in HDR – high dynamic range – which blends 3 different exposure photos.
- Burst out to capture up to 10 continuous images.
- Capture panoramas. Use the Pano mode.
- Geotag photos – photos are identified by where they were shot. (need to turn on your location services when taking photos. Be careful who you send these photos to!!!)

Want to be in the photo? Use Self-timer

Turn on Self-timer by tapping timer icon – (looks like a clock timer)

Choose 3 seconds or 10 seconds

What else can you do with photos?

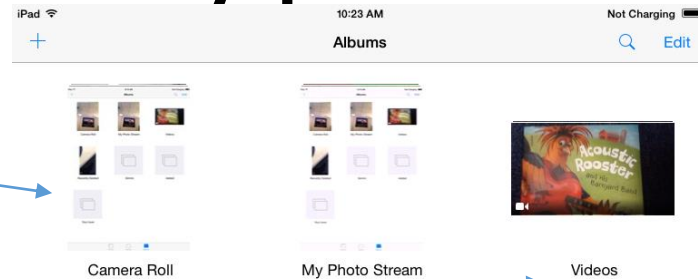

- Sync photos from your computer to your iPad
- Connect a digital camera or memory card and transfer photos from your camera to your iPad (need iPad camera connection kit)
- Save photos from your emails or the web to your iPad by pressing and holding down your finger on the image. Tap Save Image from menu option. You can see your saved photo in camera roll.
- Make a slide show (tap slideshow once in an album)

FaceTime

- A way to talk in real time with anyone else who has an Apple device and can FaceTime with you.

Need:

- 1. Access to Wi-Fi or cellular connection
- 2. People you are going to talk to also need Wi-Fi or cellular access

Tap FaceTime icon

If this is the first time
you are using FaceTime, you need to sign in using your Apple ID

Supply email address or phone number callers can use to call you

For first time, Apple will send you an email to verify it is your email address. Authorize this!

To make FaceTime call:

- 1. Tap FaceTime app or ask Siri to open FaceTime for you
- 2. Tap video tab
- 3. Choose someone to call from your list either from your contacts list or enter new name and their email or phone number
- 4. Make call - you should hear a phone ring.
- To end call, tap the red circle (shows a phone handset)
